A LIFE-STORY.

"One day when I am growing tall and old,
And wise enough to wander where I will,
Then I shall climb the height and find the gold
That hides behind the hill!"

So thought a child, whose home was in the vale,
Watching an amber sunset fade and die,
Telling herself the children's endless tale
Of life's sweet by and by.

Years passed, Love came, she climbed the height
With him,
But only saw the glory in his gaze!
Earth was so bright, and heaven's gold so dim.

In those enchanted days!
More years went by, and she was all alone
In the sweet valley of her early past;
The dream came back, and faith in things
Unshown.

Was found again at last.
One evening when she was gray and old,
And wise enough to know the Higher Will,
She climbed the height, and then she found
The gold.

That hides behind the hill.

SYNOPSIS.

Master Ardick, just reached his majority and thrown upon his own resources, after stating his case to one Houthwick, a shipmaster, is shipped as second mate on the Industry, bound for Havana. Mr. Tym, the supercargo, desires a sail. The strange vessel gives chase, but is disabled by the Industry's guns. In the fray one of the crew is killed and Houthwick is seen to fall. The captain is found to be dead, but the Industry is little damaged. Sellinger, first mate takes charge and puts into Sidmouth to secure a new mate. Several days later, when well out to sea, an English merchantman is met, whose captain has a letter addressed to Jeremiah Hope, at Havana. The crew of the vessel tell strange tales of the buccaner Morgan, who is sailing under the king's commission to take Panama. One night a little later, the English vessel having proceeded on her course, a bit of paper is slipped into Ardick's hand by one of the sailors. This is found to be a warning of a mutiny plot headed by Pradey, the new mate. Ardick consults Mr. Tym. They resolve to secure the mate, but Pradey, eavesdropping in the cabin, makes through the door and arouses the crew. Capt. Sellinger joins Ardick and Tym. The crew break through the now barricaded door, but are forced to retire, having lost seven of their number. Finding themselves now too short-handed to manage the vessel, Pradey decides to scuttle and desert the vessel, taking his men off in the only available boat. The captain, supercargo and second mate soon discover their plight, but hastily constructing a raft get away just before their vessel sinks. The next morning a Spaniard draws near them. The man in the rigging shouts: "If you would board us, take to your oars. Be speedy, or you will fall short." On board they are sent forward with the crew, being told they will be sold as slaves on reaching Panama.

CHAPTER VIII.—CONTINUED.

I got below, and in great weariness put down Mr. Tym's box and fetched a glance around. By degrees, as I became accustomed to the darkness, I made out the features of the place.

It was low for the bigness of the ship, and was furnished after a very poor and rough sort. The bunks and hammocks were old and fit to drop apart, none of the timbers or work of the ship were smoothed except by the friction of use, and a mere dilapidated fence served as a bulkhead to part off the cook's quarters. Luckily the smells of the place, ill as they were—for all was disordered and dirty—were not of the worst, for at this time stood a windward and a leeward port stood partly open, and the passage of the small breeze through served to sweep out the chiefest of the odors.

We did not come by a good knowledge of the place instantly, for it was somewhat dimly lighted, the port on the larboard side being closed and that upon the starboard standing scarce two inches upon the hook, but upon peering about a bit at first one feature and then another came out.

We had taken two or three steps forward, and I was casting a glance in the direction of the cook's furnace, when an object nearly concealed by it moved, and this I presently saw was the cook himself. He had been sitting on a box, with his elbows on his knees, or in some manner bowed forward, and rose up as we stopped and looked alertly at us. He was a little fellow, inclined to be puffy, and near all his figure was hidden by a long white apron, his face, however, coming out in the wrinkles of a short pipe. I discovered that he had light hair, which is not common among the Spaniards, and this made me notice him a little more than I should otherwise have done.

He came out from his place, seeing us halt, and made a little civil gesture, upon which I bowed gravely and gave him good morning.

"Buenos dias," he responded, and then, to my great surprise, softly added: "But good morning in the and tongue, if see ye'll see it."

He took out his pipe as he spoke and crossed over to us.

"What, a Sandy!" I cried, delighted, "and what is he doing here?"

I seized his hand and gave it a most cordial grip, as did also my companions. "Gae a bit cautiously," he whispered, with a meaning nod toward the fore-castle. "Ye mauna seem over-pleased. You'll find this a pleasant ship," he added in Spanish, "and able in all weathers. I take it yonder is where you are to sling your hammocks."

My companions caught the point he would make, which was to avoid the jealousy or suspicion of the boat-swain, and they did not interrupt, while I returned a suitable answer.

"Petition to sling your hammocks noo," he swiftly whispered, as I ended. "Likewise say bawdily that ye need a mickle rest, and wad hae a bit drink and a sup."

I nodded and asked aloud for a pipe. "Mine is broken," I said in Spanish, "and you know what a seaman is without his clay."

"I am to ask the boatswain to grant us a little time below," I whispered to my companion. "Feign overcoming weariness as we pass out."

With this I signed to my companions to follow, and returned to the fore-castle. The boatswain had lighted his own pipe and was sitting on one of the men's boxes, firing away in leisurely puffs.

I made heavily along to him, exaggerating my real weariness, and preferred my request.

"Aye, if you like," he replied, carelessly. "Yonder, in that corner, you will find three hammocks. Sling them and afterward take your bite. Aye, and have a turn with the pipe. A seaman is naught without his clay, and you will be fitter for the work."

I thanked him and translated the talk to my companions.

We were not long, saying that we dared not mend our pace too suddenly, in slinging the hammocks and disposing of our few effects.

It was now the beginning of the first dog watch, and none of the men were in the fore-castle. The time was seasonable, and we hastened to begin our confab with the cook. We asked him first what had brought him on a Spanish ship, for we Britons are not often found on such, and in answer he gave us a brief but consistent story of shipping from a Scotch port and in a smart blow falling overboard, to be picked up just in the nick of time by a Spanish coaster. She carried him to Malaga, he said, his original port being Cartagena, and from there he had been glad to ship on the Pilanea. His story ended, we fell to questioning him on our present surroundings. What was the Pilanea, and who were these fine people she carried?

"Aweel, the Pilanea is naething but a common sort of merchantman," he answered, "and her trade is maist times betwixt Havana and the straits, but just noo she is a special charterer frae the king. She is carrying Don Perez de Guzman, governor of Panama, to Chagres, and the auld noble ye clavered wi' is the man."

"But now a word as to our own state, Sandy," I began. "Or, first, I should be thankful for a better grip of your name."

"It'll be a cordial to hear ye speak it; these loons canna," he answered, with a sniff. "It's Donald Mac Ivraich, frae Clagvarloch."

"Then, friend Donald," I went on, "what think you of our prospects? Are they not something dubious?"

"I canna say nae," he answered, his countenance sobering. "Ye are like to be se'd wi' no sweet sauce ance ye reach Panama."

"Let it rest so," said Mr. Tym. "And now another question: Who are all these other bravely dressed people?"

I noticed both men and women.

"Will it be bravely dressed folk?" said Mac Ivraich, brightening. "Nay, but we hae the governor's lady—the auld dame wi' the dour look and the bit whisks—though it's no sure ye wad see them, either, along wi' the man-tilla, and sic like—and for another gait ane, Don Luis Delasco, a count by title, and rich in land and gowd, but sma' in body, and an ill tyke to look upon. He is the governor's son-in-law, and is not to be envied, they say, sic a dill's ane scauld is her leddyship. Among the itherers are Don Lopez Castillo, Don Enrique de Cavodilla, and Don Leon de Cruzon. They are hidalgos, and friends o' the governor, and three mair proud, preceese auld cocks ye'll gae far to find."

We were very well satisfied with this description, and indeed, somewhat surprised, especially in view of the tempting smells from the cookery. Mac Ivraich hastily inverted another box, hunted up three pannikins, with spoons, which he placed upon it, and poured out the mess from the pot. It proved to be a delicious onion stew. We lost no time in proving it, which I will say now pleased my palate more than anything I ever remember of eating, and in this wise I continued—being no whit before my companions—till the pot was empty.

Mac Ivraich now crowned his hospitable efforts by producing pipes and tobacco, and when we had mowed the boxes about, that we might take more comfortable postures, we raked a coal from the furnace, and with great ease and pleasure proceeded to light up. Our stomachs were satisfied, we were cozily by ourselves, and the ship was traveling very pleasantly along, so that, for the time at least, we might be said to be in a state of comparative content. This was all the more grateful after the long hardship and exposure of the raft. In the discourse that followed we answered freely Mac Ivraich's questions, he having till now but a scant knowledge of us, and contrived to impress him, as I thought, with the advantage to himself in continuing his friendship and good offices.

Not long after this some of the crew came down, and though none forced their company on us we conceived that it might not be wise to prolong our confab, and accordingly gave the cook a sign and broke up. In no great while afterward the boatswain summoned us, and we learned that we were presently to be sent into the watches and report for duty. This was done, and we found that the captain was chosen for the first mate's watch, and Mr. Tym and I for the second mate's, or starboard watch. It seemed that we had four hours each, continually—that is, watch and watch.

At four bells Mr. Tym and I were called, and we left the captain to turn in (he being weary enough, as indeed, were we), and repaired to the deck.

CHAPTER IX.

Nothing noteworthy happened during our watch, little, indeed, pressing to be done, and the Spaniards too lazy or too indifferent to set us tasks. I had Mr. Tym always in my eye, ready to give him a lift should need be, but all passed without the call.

That night passed uneventfully, and, as I may as well add, to be brief, so did the next three days. The weather held fair, with moderate winds, and there was nothing to put a strain upon anyone.

Meanwhile that this time was passing my companions and I had come by a better knowledge of things touching the voyage and the governor's plans. It seemed we were to make but one more port before reaching Chagres, that being a place called Baracoa, in the eastern part of the island of Cuba. There the governor was to transact some business and obtain such fresh stores as we needed, and thence meant to fetch straight over for Chagres.

On the morning of the fourth day after our rescue something of a thrilling and in part of a dreadful sort happened, and this I shall now proceed to detail. Mr. Tym and I were lying in our hammocks, it being our watch below, when I thought I heard some small stir on deck, followed by the bawling of voices, as though delivering commands. I sat up and listened, for I could not guess what was in the wind, and as I did so the ship suddenly began to saw up and down.

"What is doing?" queried Mr. Tym, sitting up in his hammock as I had done.

"It is passing singular," I said, and with one mind we rose and scuffled into our shoes, having a keen desire to solve the mystery. In the fore-castle beyond we met the cook, who had just descended the ladder. He was a little out of breath, as though from hurry, and his looks showed something had happened.

"Hoots!" he cried, without waiting for us to speak. "We are a' in a peckle. A buccaner will be out yonder."

"A buccaner!" I cried, in surprise and joy. "Are you certain? Nay, that is a pickle that is right enough. When did he heave in sight?"

"He has been showing a' the watch," he answered, "and now we are rising him fast. Gin ye are e'er sae wale pleased, ye wad be wise to hide it," he added, under his breath.

I was quick to see the wisdom of the suggestion and returned an answering nod. "Come, Mr. Tym," I said, in a lower and soberer key, "let us go and have a look at this pirate."

I spoke the word pirate with purposeful emphasis, knowing that the fellows in the watch—most of whom were now sitting up in their bunks or slapping about in their bare feet—would hear, and so far understand me. "A pirate!" went from one to another. The most sluggish bounced out in a twinkling.

Leaving the cook to finish with them—or those who would stay to hear—Mr. Tym and I hastened up the ladder.

Truly enough, the sun was in our faces, and the Pilanea was driving eastward, close hauled.

Directly astern, and I guessed now about four or five miles distant, was the well-defined canvas of the supposed buccaner. There was no saying anything about him, of course, without a glass, and I could merely guess that he was quite a little smaller than the Pilanea. We might be raising him, but of course that would not be apparent without longer inspection.

There was no great change in the weather. The wind had strengthened a trifle since we went below and there was more head to the seas, but otherwise everything stood nearly the same.

In this part of the ship the watch hung about the braces, as though for orders, and there was an anxious, subdued jabber running round, but no particular confusion.

Aft I found the poop cleared of bright gowns and petticoats, the prudent old governor thinking, doubtless, it might be wise to offer as few allurements as possible, and in their place were five or six of the shining, armored guards. Others of these fighting men were disposed about the quarter-deck, and, all told, I guessed the entire company was on duty. The governor himself, a somber-lined clank flung over his gay attire, was walking to and fro on the poop, and Capt. Placido was spying with a glass from the wether mizen shrouds.

It went grievously against the governor's pride and that of the dons to run away, but in prudence no other course seemed open. Besides, the safety of the women was to be considered. The foe had the advantage of a nimble, handier-working ship, and doubtless mustered an equal or larger crew.

We discussed the matter at some length, and decided that a great water-castle like the Pilanea, with relatively small sails and bluff bows, must be inferior at plying, and that some excellent trick of seamanship would be needed if we were to shake off a fellow like the buccaner.

"And yet," added Capt. Sellinger, "there is one point in our favor—I mean in favor of the Pilanea—the wind is stiffening. Should it continue she can carry on to beat this fellow, and may yet escape."

"I conceive," said I, "that we three should arrange some definite plot or plan of action. Let us do so while yet we have the time."

"That I say amen to," said the captain. "Mr. Tym, as your brain is more fertile than mine, conceive something."

"Let us rather all consider," answered the supercargo. "Say that we do so while this watch lasts, and then presently confer."

"Agreed," we said; and in order to get the use of our thoughts the better, as well as to avoid suspicion, Mr. Tym and I thereupon left the captain and mingled with the crew.

The Spaniards looked rather more sourly than usual upon us—which, perhaps, was no great wonder—but nothing was said, and we secured a quiet roost upon the 'midships weather-rail.

Mr. Tym and I did not talk, for when we were not observing the pursuer we were busy in reflection, and I tried to forget the chatter behind me and the dinning along of the vessel while I made the most of the time.

I confess my brain refused to resolve anything—or anything of moment—and it was at last with some vexation and doubt of the whole matter that I gave up and jumped off my perch.

The stronger wind, as it seemed, was now helping us, for the sail astern no longer enlarged, after the former fashion. Indeed, I thought the Pilanea was nearly holding her own. In due time our watch went on, and till the other relieved us the supercargo and I were about the deck.

It was now the time that we were to meet to discuss our plans, and accordingly Mr. Tym and I slipped up from below (where we had gone with the rest, to seem the more natural) and joined the captain. He had us to the weather bow, near the fore-deck, where was no one at the time, and without delay we began.

There will be no need to give the fullness of the talk. In the end we decided upon the scheme proposed by Mr. Tym and slightly amended by the captain. It was, in brief, that we should construct a little float or raft, on which, as soon as it became dark, or it was evident that the Pilanea was to escape, we should boldly put off. We could make this cask of odds and ends to be obtained for us by the cook, and the launching would be from one of the 'tween-deck ports.

Our plot laid, the next thing was to begin to carry it out. The cook, as we expected, was blithe to help us. Indeed, he seemed, I thought, inclined to go with us; but presently, as I started to find out more exactly about it, he shifted the subject. He appeared, however, fully enlisted in our behalf.

The materials for our raft being readily found, were put together. Four casks were used to form the ends (it must necessarily be very narrow, to pass through the port), and all was made fast with some strong line and a few nails.

PRECIOUS STONES.

There Are Several Kinds, Including Diamonds, Found in Many of Our States.

Diamonds have been found in Wisconsin. In 1896 one stone of 6½ carats was found in Saukville, Ozaukee county, six miles northeast of Milwaukee, and another 2 1-16 carats in Burlington, Racine county. In 1886 one of 21 carats, but of poor color, was found near Kohlsville, Washington county, Wis. These gems were found in what is known as the Kettle Moraine of the later glacial epoch. Geologists say that they were carried by ice from the north.

One diamond of 1 3-16 carats, one of 1-10 and one third of 1-32 carat were found near Butte, Mont., a short time ago. Rubies have been found in surprisingly large quantities in the Cowee valley of North Carolina. With them are very beautiful garnets.

On the bars of the Missouri river, in Montana, sapphires of small size but fair quality and good in quantity are being taken out by companies formed for the purpose. Several fine beryls have been unearthed in Maine. In North Carolina some good specimens of emeralds have been discovered. Topaz occurs in Idaho and Montana.

Connecticut, Maine and North Carolina have produced several specimens of tourmaline. Garnets occur in fair quantities in California. South Dakota and Virginia have produced a few valuable amethysts. A beautiful opal was found in Maryland. In Lincoln county, Idaho, there is a deposit of opalized wood which is susceptible of superb polish. Turquoise occurs in Arizona in the Burro mountains.—N. Y. Press.

A Baffled Tigress.

An officer of the Bengal lancers, who was seized by a tigress, owed his escape to a curious accident. The tigress seized him by the breast of his coat and shook him till he became unconscious. On recovering he heard a strange noise at a little distance, as if somebody was sneezing violently. It was the tigress herself. He slowly turned round and gave a furtive glance in that direction. He could hardly believe his eyes. There was the tigress slinking off with her tail very much between her legs and sneezing most violently, and making the most piteous grimaces. The truth dawned upon him like a flash of lightning. In the operation of shaking him his snuffbox had flown open from his waistcoat pocket, and the tigress had received the contents thereof full in her face.—Cornhill Magazine.

Unusual.

"Curious about that rich chap that was tried for murder," said Uncle Abner, glancing up at his wife from his paper.

"Didn't the jury hang him?" asked she.

"No," replied the old man, "and that's where the curious part comes in—this paper says that his lawyers succeeded in 'hanging' the jury."—Judge.

The Way to a Man's Heart.

"Oh, Reginald," she sobbed, for her husband had sneered at her waffles. "You have no heart." Gathering her tenderly in his arms, he told her the story of his life; how in years long gone he had his stomach amputated. That was to say, while he had a heart, the conventional way to it was lacking.—Detroit Journal.

Proof Positive.

Two men were standing outside a jeweler's window admiring the gorgeous display of glittering gems that lay before them. Presently one of them, pointing to an object in a red push tray, said:
"Just look at that sapphire, representing a fly. Anyone can tell that's not real."
"Well, I should think so," answered the friend. "Who ever saw a common fly with such a bright appearance? Why, it makes me weary when I think that the jeweler who produced that fondly hoped that some one would purchase it to deceive his friends. If I saw that on a man's scarf I could tell directly that it was an emerald imitation." At that moment the object of their condemnation moved across the tray, flew in the air, and vanished. The two men looked at each other, gasped, and moved away without a word.—Pearson's Weekly.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. PAINFUL PERIODS NO MORE

MRS. GEORGE OSMUN, of Belvidere, Warren Co., N. J., writes: "Suffering as I had from weakness, irregularities and backache for several years, a release from this suffering was a blessing. Oh! how I wish more suffering women would accept your kind offer and be relieved. There is no need for women to suffer. Mrs. Pinkham's advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will relieve them."

MRS. IDA PETERS, Milan, Tenn., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—When I wrote to you the first time asking your advice I was a great sufferer. Menstruations were irregular, sometimes a week too soon and then a week or two late, and when they appeared were very profuse; great pain and tenderness in the bowels, pain in back and limbs, leucorrhoea all the time. I was weak and nervous and had no appetite. Burning and choking sensation in my throat. I received your reply and followed all your instructions and now I am cured. I owe my recovery all to Mrs. Pinkham's advice and her wonderful remedies."

ELLA E. BRENNER, East Rochester, Ohio, writes:

"I have been thankful a thousand times since I wrote to you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. I followed your advice carefully and now I feel like a different person. My troubles were backache, headache, nervous tired feeling, painful menstruation and leucorrhoea. I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one box of Pills, one package of Sanative Wash and am now well."

MRS. MAGGIE P. STINE, New Berlin, Pa., writes:

"I have suffered with terrible backache in the small of my back for about seven years, and could never get anything to help me. I tried several physicians, but found no help. I have now taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and feel like a different woman."

Mrs. H. A., 124 S. Cedar Street, Owosso, Mich., writes: "Nearly three years ago I wrote to you asking advice in regard to my health. I was so miserable; suffered from painful menstruation and backache, was nervous, dizzy and faint. I received such a kind letter from you, telling me just what to do. I followed your advice and I now am recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I thank God for this pain destroyer."

ARMY DISASTER.

An Engagement at Quengua in Which Seven Americans Were Killed.

Rebels Subsequently Attacked and Driven From Their Trench to the Second Trench a Mile Away—Nebraska Regiment the Loser.

MANILA, April 24.—Four men of the Nebraska regiment, including Col. Stetsberg, Lieut. Sisson and three men of the fourth cavalry were killed and 44 wounded in an engagement at Quengua. The Filipinos retreated with small loss. The engagement developed into a disastrous, though successful fight. The insurgents had a horseshoe trench about a mile long encircling a rice field on the edge of a wood.

The following were killed:

Col. John M. Stetsberg, of the 1st Nebraska regiment, formerly of the 6th cavalry.

Lieut. Sisson (perhaps Lieut. August C. Nisson), of the same regiment.

Two privates of the Nebraska regiment.

Three privates of the 4th cavalry.

Most of the wounded belong to the 1st Nebraska regiment.

Maj. Bell, with 40 cavalrymen, encountered a strong outpost. One of his men was killed and five were wounded by a volley.

The Americans retired, carrying the wounded under fire and with great difficulty, being closely pursued, a fog enabling the enemy to creep up to them.

Two men who were carrying a comrade were shot in the arms, but they continued with their burden.

Maj. Bell sent for reinforcements to rescue the body of the killed cavalrymen, and a battalion of the Nebraska regiment, under Maj. Mufford, arrived and advanced until checked by volleys from the enemy's trenches.

The Americans lay about 800 yards from the trenches, behind rice furrows, under fire, for two hours.

Several men were sunstruck, one dying from the effects of the heat, as they lay there waiting for the artillery to come up.

Finally the second battalion arrived, and then Col. Stetsberg, who had spent the night with his father at Manila, came upon the field. The men immediately recognized him and raised a cheer. Col. Stetsberg, deciding to charge as the cheapest way out of the difficulty, led the attack at the head of his regiment. He fell with a bullet in the breast, dying instantly about 200 yards from the breastworks.

Lieut. Sisson fell with a bullet in his heart, the bullet striking him near the picture of a girl suspended by a ribbon from his neck.

In the meantime the artillery had arrived and shelled the trenches.

The Filipinos stood until the Nebraska troops were right on the trenches and then they bolted to the second line of intrenchments a mile back.

The Nebraska regiment lost two privates and had many wounded, including two lieutenants.

The Iowa regiment had several wounded.

The Utah regiment had one officer and three men wounded.

Thirteen dead Filipinos were found in the trenches. Their loss was comparatively small on account of their safe shelter.

The Americans carried the second trench with small loss and are holding the town Sunday night.

Col. Stetsberg has won a reputation as one of the bravest fighters in the army. He always led his regiment and had achieved remarkable popularity with his men since the war began, although during his first coloncy the volunteers, who were not used to the rigid discipline of the regular troops, thought him a hard officer.

The loss of the Nebraska regiment in the campaign is the greatest sustained by any regiment, and Sunday's disaster has greatly saddened officers and men, who promise to take fierce vengeance in the next fight.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The following message regarding the fight at Quengua, was received at the war department Sunday:

"MANILA, April 23, Adjutant General, A reconnaissance on Quengua place, six miles northeast of Malolos, made by Maj. Bell and a troop of cavalry this morning resulted in contact and battle, in which four battalions of infantry and four pieces of artillery became engaged. Enemy driven from intrenchments at Quengua with considerable loss; our casualties quite severe. Col. Stetsberg and Lieut. Sissons, 1st Nebraska, killed. Also several enlisted men. Considerable numbers wounded, not yet reported.

(Signed) Otis."

Cigars Seized at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 24.—It was learned Sunday night that something over 100,000 cigars has been found by the internal revenue officers in Pittsburgh, bearing stamps issued by the Jacobs factory, Lancaster, Pa. Returns from the balance of this district have not as yet been reported.

QUAY DECLARED NOT GUILTY.

The Jury Acquits Him of Charge of Conspiracy—Gov. Stone Then Appoints Him United States Senator.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 22.—At noon Friday Gov. Stone appointed M. S. Quay senator from Pennsylvania, the appointment to hold until the next session of the legislature. The following is Gov. Stone's official announcement of the appointment:

To the President of the United States Senate, Washington, D. C.: Sir—By virtue of the power vested in me as executive of the state of Pennsylvania, under Article I, Clause II, Section 3, of the constitution of the United States, I hereby make temporary appointment of the Hon. Matthew Stanley Quay, to be United States senator from Pennsylvania until the next meeting of the Pennsylvania legislature, to fill the vacancy now existing in this state.

Very respectfully,

WILLIAM A. STONE, Governor.

The appointment was made immediately upon the receipt by Gov. Stone of a message from Philadelphia announcing the verdict of acquittal in the senator's case. The appointment is a great triumph for the Quay faction.

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Senator M. S. Quay was Friday morning acquitted of the charge of conspiracy to use the state's funds. The jury rendered a verdict to that effect at 11 o'clock.

Many notable republican politicians of the state were in the courtroom, and many ladies were among the spectators. All the attorneys and others connected with the case were on hand.

Judge Biddle resumed his seat on the bench, and at 10:57 court was formally opened. Then the jury filed in and took their seats. All of the 12 answered to their names.

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?" asked the clerk.

"We have," answered the foreman, as he presented the bill of indictment.

"What say you, do you find the defendant guilty or not guilty?"

The foreman answered in a voice audible throughout the courtroom:

"Not guilty."

Pandemonium followed this answer. The spectators arose and cheered and there was a simultaneous rush to congratulate Senator Quay. It is understood that from the first ballot the jury stood 11 to 1 for acquittal.

Senator Quay left the courtroom with his attorneys. He refused to make any statement at present. District Attorney Rothermel also declined to make any statement. Nor would he say whether the other charges against Quay would be tried.

Gov. Stone said that in appointing Col. Quay he felt that he had done the fit and proper thing. He thought it would make the issue, and is better done now than by waiting for weeks. The authority cited by the governor says that the governor of any state may make temporary appointment during a recess to hold until the next legislative meets.

A NATIONAL COMMANDERY.

Meeting of the Naval and Military Order of the Spanish-American War Held in New York—Officers Elected.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A meeting of the naval and military order of the Spanish-American war was held here Friday night. Commander Brig. Gen. Clad presided.

It was decided to incorporate the organization and adopt an insignia and organize a national commandery and adopt a national constitution and by-laws. After discussion it was resolved to address all United States volunteers as "late United States volunteers."

The following officers were elected: Commander, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, U. S. V.; senior vice commander, Capt. Henry Taylor, U. S. N.; junior vice commander, Brig. Gen. Wallace Randolph, U. S. V.; secretary, Lieut. Dr. J. Sears, U. S. N.; treasurer, Ensign Frank W. Toppin, U. S. N.; registrar, Lieut. Theo. C. Ziegler, U. S. N. V.; chaplain, Charles A. Parks.

A DUEL WITH PITCHFORKS.

At Chicago Edward Zikmond Stabbed to Death—Horace Scott, Colored, Zikmond Surrendered.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Armed with pitchforks Horace Scott, colored, and Edward Zikmond, a young white man, fought a duel to death in an alley at the rear of 1830 Indiana avenue Friday afternoon. Scott was stabbed in the breast and died in a few minutes. Zikmond surrendered to the police three hours later. There had been ill feeling between the men for some time and Friday afternoon when Zikmond attempted to drive through the alley, and was unable to do so because a wagon in Scott's charge blocked the passage, the old quarrel was renewed with the above result.

Supreme Court Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The United States supreme court will adjourn for the present term on the 23d of May. The call of the docket for cases will be suspended on Friday, the 28th inst., leaving one week for the argument of cases.

Wheeling Street Car Strike.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 22.—The street car strike situation continues to improve. A full service was again given Friday but the public continues to stay off the cars.

GUNS SILENCED.

The Dakota Regiment Encountered the Rebels at Novatiches.

The Rebels Left Many Dead on the Field—Gen. Lawton Will Endeavor to Outflank the Filipinos Before He Joins Gen. MacArthur.

MANILA, April 24.—Gen. Lawton took the field at daybreak Saturday with a column of troops, consisting of the North Dakota regiment, two battalions of the 3d infantry, the 22d infantry, two guns of Scott's battery, three troops of the 4th cavalry, and Gale's squadron, equipped in light marching order. This force starting at 5 o'clock Saturday morning over the Novatiches road, traversing the country previously cleared of rebels, but subsequently reoccupied by them. It is to be presumed that Gen. Lawton by this movement will outflank the enemy before joining Gen. MacArthur north of Malolos.

The Dakota regiment first encountered the enemy in front of Novatiches at 8:15 a. m. The rebels opened fire on our troops but their fire was silenced 15 minutes later, the enemy retiring in bad order and the Americans advancing along the rough roads around Novatiches. They were considerably annoyed by the fire of the rebel sharpshooters from the jungle for two hours.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the rebels were in full flight, leaving many dead on the field, and our troops were compelled to take a brief rest in the shade as the heat was overpowering.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The war department has nothing new from Gen. Otis, but it has reason to believe that he was surprised at the easy march Gen. Lawton was having in the interior to the northeast of Manila. Gen. Otis only designed it to be another "reconnaissance in force," but it may develop into a round-up, with the object of striking the railroad north of Calocan. It is understood Gen. Lawton took only three days' travel rations with him, but if no strong body of insurgents is developed by his advance, supplies can be sent after him from Calocan.

NO LIVES REPORTED LOST.

Steamship Glenogle Crashed into the Steamer City of Kingston at Tacoma—The Latter Cut in Two.

TACOMA, Wash., April 24.—The steamship Glenogle crashed into the steamer City of Kingston about 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning off Brown's Point, cutting the City of Kingston in two just abaft the boilers. The 12 passengers and crew of the Kingston were saved through the prompt action of officers of the Glenogle and Kingston and two ships lying in the harbor. So far as known no lives were lost.

Rev. Horace H. Clapham, rector of Trinity church, occupied the state room struck by the Glenogle's prow and was pinned in the wreckage for several minutes, only being released by the parting of the steamers. His forehead was cut slightly but he was not seriously hurt.

The Kingston was cut in two pieces which have been towed to the harbor here.

STATE MILITIA ORDERED OUT

Fears That An Attempt Will Be Made to Lynch George W. Kerlin, Now in the Atlanta Jail.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 24.—Gov. Candler stated Sunday evening that he had been advised that a mob of citizens of Fayetteville and Woolly were coming to Atlanta to take Geo. W. Kerlin from the jail here and lynch him. Kerlin murdered Miss Pearl Knott near Woolly several days ago and threw her body in the river. The governor immediately ordered eight companies of the 5th infantry (state militia) to be in readiness to march to the jail upon order. It is believed, however, that the troops are held in readiness to be sent to Palmetto in case of an uprising of Negroes there.

PALMETTO, Ga., April 24.—Elijah Strickland, the Negro preacher who is accused by Sam Hose, the Negro burned to death near Newnan Sunday, of paying him (Hose) $12 to murder Farmer Alfred Crawford, was captured by a mob of people from this vicinity three miles out of town Sunday night. He was brought to Palmetto and at midnight was placed on trial for his life by a court composed of those who had arrested him. Speeches for and against his character were made and the trial was in progress early Monday morning.

BEST PEOPLE ON EARTH.

Friday night of this week, Apr. 28, will be a gala one in Lexington for the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. It will be the occasion of the annual benefit of Lexington Lodge No. 89, when the beautiful comic opera "Polly, the Pot of the Regiment," will be produced at the opera house under the directorship of Mr. A. C. ("Guss") Gutzeit, a former Parisian and brother of Prof. A. M. Gutzeit, of this city. The opera will be finely sung and acted, costumed and mounted. As the friendship between the Lexington and Paris Elks is very strong, it is hoped that Paris Lodge, No. 373, will arrange to attend the performance in a body. If a sufficient number from here will attend a special return train can be secured after the performance. The Lexington Elks very kindly assisted Paris Lodge in the benefit given by the latter.

"The Musketeers," which is being presented at the Grand Opera House in Cincinnati this week, is the big Broadway Theatre production which has swept all over the country. Mr. O'Neill's experiences and success have been equally brilliant in New York. The star company supporting Mr. James O'Neill embraces Miss Blanche Bates (considered by many New York critics and a large portion of the New York public the best young actress in the country to-day) and the following well known New York favorites: Frances Carlyle, Nora O'Brien, S. Miller Kent, Roselle Knott, Andrew Robson, Adelaide Mould, Edmund Collier, Frank J. Keenan, Jacques Krueger, Elizabeth Baker, Hallett Thompson, Edmund Breese, etc. It is expected that a number of Paris people will witness the production.

ALL WOMEN AGREE.

A druggist in Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend, and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it. All women agree that it makes labor shorter and less painful."

Mother's Friend

is not a chance remedy. Its good effects are readily experienced by all expectant mothers who use it. Years ago it passed the experimental stage. While it always shortens labor and lessens the pains of delivery, it is also of the greatest benefit during the earlier months of pregnancy. Morning sickness and nervousness are readily overcome, and the liniment relaxes the strained muscles, permitting them to expand without causing distress. Mother's Friend gives great recuperative power to the mother, and her recovery is sure and rapid. Danger from rising and swollen breasts is done away with completely.

Sold by druggists for $1 a bottle.

"I feel as if I should fly to pieces." How often those words are on a woman's lips. They express to the uttermost the nerve racked condition of the body, which makes life a daily martyrdom.

If this condition had come suddenly it would have been unbearable. But the transition was gradual. A little more strain each day on the nerves. A little more drain each day of the vitality. Any woman would be glad to be rid of such a condition. Every woman tries to be rid of it. Thousands of such women have been cured by Dr. Pierce's treatment with his "Favorite Prescription" when local doctors had entirely failed to cure.

Sick women suffering from unpleasant drains, irregularities, bearing down pains, inflammation and ulceration are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter free of charge. Every letter is guarded as a sacred confidence. All letters are promptly answered and mailed in private envelopes without printing of any kind upon them.

"Favorite Prescription" is in the fullest sense a temperance medicine, containing neither alcohol nor opium or other narcotic in any form. Accept no substitute.
Mrs. Rena Hensel, of Massillon, Stark Co., Ohio, writes: "I had been troubled with chronic constipation and female weakness and doctored with different physicians, none of whom seemed to help me. I saw one of your advertisements, and I thought I would try your medicine. I did so and with good results. Took one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and two of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I can say I am cured of my troubles, thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicines. They do a world of good to those who give them a good trial."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a perfect cure for constipation.

Eld. Zach Sweeney's Meeting.

Eld. Zach Sweeney, a Christian Church minister of National fame, whose Paris friends are legion, began a protracted meeting Sunday at the Christian Church. The capacity of the Church was tested at both services by the audience which gathered to hear Eld. Sweeney's fine sermons.

Eld. Sweeney's sermons are eloquent and earnest and he tells the gospel stories so beautifully and touchingly that his meetings have brought many souls into the church. He preached another fine sermon last night from the subject "The Rule of Three."

The choir has been augmented and the music will be an attractive feature during the meeting. Mrs. E. C. Long sang a beautiful solo Sunday night.

The meetings will begin promptly at half-past seven o'clock every night and will be over by nine o'clock. The pastor asks all to be in their seats by half-past seven.

Eld. Sweeney's subject to-night will be "The Mission and The Work of The Holy Spirit."

Concerning Brick Streets.

George Horine and City Engineer O'Neill, of Lexington, who are making a plat of Main street of Paris, will arrive here to-morrow to deliver their work to the Council, and the brick street question will more than likely be discussed at the regular council meeting Thursday night.

Col. W. W. Baldwin, of the Maysville & Lexington Turnpike Co., yesterday told THE NEWS that it cost him an average of twelve hundred dollars per year to keep the Main street of Paris, which is the M. & L. turnpike—in repair. The cost of scraping the street and carting away the mud, and the expense of repairing the street crossings will add several hundred dollars to the cost of keeping up the street.

It will be economy to pave the street and there is a growing sentiment in favor of the improvement.

Imperial spectacles and eyeglasses have perfect lenses, always perfectly centered and made of purest material, set in frames of the highest elasticity and consequently of greatest durability, united with the utmost lightness and elegance. When both frames and lenses are scientifically fitted by Dr. C. H. Bowen's system they always give satisfaction for they are perfect. Never buy cheap spectacles, nor of men who do not know how to fit them. You will get poorly adjusted spectacles, or poor, imperfect lenses, and are better off without any glasses than with either of these defects. Buy Imperial spectacles of a reliable, skillful dealer, and they will last longer without change and be cheapest in the end.

We have engaged the services of Dr. C. H. Bowen who will visit our store on the second and last Thursdays of each month and invite all to call and have their eyes examined, for which there is no charge. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

NEARING AN END.

Testimony on Behalf of Mrs. George Concluded Friday.

Brief Examination, by Agreement, Saturday and Testimony in Rebuttal—The Jury Will Probably Be Charged
Wednesday Afternoon.

CANTON, O., April 21.—The defense in the George trial began Thursday morning, its attack on state witnesses claimed to be addicted to the opium or morphine habit. Dr. Eymann, superintendent of the state asylum for the insane at Newburg, testified as an expert. He said a person addicted to the habit loses honor and truthfulness and retains little or no principle.

Of 1,050 patients in his asylum, he estimated 50 to 100 were morphine victims. This testimony is most important and valuable to the defense. Mrs. Eckroate, who was the only witness who identified Mrs. George as the murderer, is an admitted morphine user.

Alva Whipple, P. E. Mook and Mrs. Mook testified to the darkness of the night. W. B. DeWees, Mrs. Maud Randall and Joseph A. Lippert testified to burrs growing along the sidewalk next to the house where Mrs. George roomed.

Thomas Shepard, the former janitor, was recalled and testified to having heard Saxton say he would kick Mrs. George out of the block if she didn't stay out.

S. S. Kaufmann, cashier of the national bank, testified to issuing drafts to Saxton to the amount of $500, which were cashed in South Dakota either by Mrs. George or others for her.

James Haddell, night clerk at the Hotel Federal, Allegheny, testified that Saxton and Mrs. George registered as G. D. Smith and wife, of Toledo, on March 24, 1896.

An alibi is promised by the defense. A woman who lives near the scene of the murder will swear that Mrs. George was in her house at the time of the shooting.

Attorneys for Mrs. George say they will account for her whereabouts during all of the time between 8 and 7 p. m.

CANTON, O., April 22.—The defense sought to show Friday by Miss Florence B. Klingler that in 1896 Mrs. George was making preparations to go to housekeeping. It was excluded until better evidence of a promise to marry her had been furnished. The witness also testified to passing Saxton on his way west at 5:55 the evening of his death. At 6:35 she said Mrs. George came to her home on Marion street and remained there until 6:50, when she went to Sterling's law office. These hours constitute an alibi, it being practically a physical impossibility to have been at the Althouse home at the hour of the shooting and at the Klingler home at 6:25.

E. J. Schlabach, a druggist, testified to having sold one-eighth ounce bottle of morphine to Mrs. Eckroate at intervals of a week or two. Harry A. Taylor testified to Mrs. George and Saxton going to Allegheny in March, 1896.

Joseph Eckroate, husband of the woman who testified that she had seen and recognized Mrs. George in the act of firing two shots into Saxton's body, looking from her bedroom window, was called to the stand at the opening of the trial of Mrs. George Friday morning. He testified that his wife had been using a white powder presumed to be morphine, for the past 12 years. He said it made her drowsy and irritable.

Fred P. Shanafelt and Alex Garver, druggists, also testified to selling morphine to Mrs. Eckroate. Former Policeman H. A. Smallfield, was prevented from telling about finding Mrs. George in the Saxton block after midnight one night.

Miss Effie Darr told of passing Mrs. George near the Lindeman house about 5:20 the evening of Saxton's death, and Mrs. Ella Fink testified to seeing Mrs. George at that house during the day and leaving it at 5:30, also to the presence of burrs and Spanish needles in the yard.

Miss Alice Mandebach testified to having often seen Mrs. Althouse enter the Saxton block in 1895.

CANTON, O., April 22.—The testimony on behalf of the defense in the trial of Mrs. George was concluded Friday. A brief cross examination, by agreement, will be conducted Saturday morning and then testimony in rebuttal will be offered. If this is concluded before the regular hour for noon adjournment court will then adjourn two days. The jury will probably be charged Wednesday forenoon. The features of Friday were the calling of Sample C. George, the former husband of the defendant, to the stand, the alibi of Mrs. George and the effort to impeach the testimony of Mrs. Eckroate, the woman who claims to have recognized Mrs. George in the act of firing two shots.

CANTON, O., April 24.—Mrs. Lizzie Miller who saw the man in the maskintosh cape and sailor hat soon after the death of Saxton, was not on hand for cross-examination by the state when court opened Saturday. A doctor had been sent to investigate her physical ability to attend and the state reserved the right to take up the subject later.

Then rebuttal on behalf of the state began. County Surveyor J. S. Hoover was called to testify as to the distances between a points named in testimony for the defense. It was especially sought to show that the accused might have left the scene of the tragedy after the shooting and reached Florence Klingler's home at the hour named by that witness.

In an effort to rebut Mrs. Lindeman's testimony about Mrs. George not having a revolver concealed the day of the murder, policeman McCloud was called to show that Mrs. George had inside her corsage that day a number of napkins intended to improve her form. This was held incompetent in rebuttal.

Michael Barr, post office money order clerk, said he saw Mrs. George in the office at 2:50 and 3:15 the day of the murder. This was in contradiction of Mrs. Lindeman, who said Mrs. George was with her all of the afternoon. He also identified two letters in Mrs. George's writing.

Mrs. Lizzie Miller sent a medical certificate of inability to appear in court.

Sample C. George was called to fix the time of settlement with Saxton at two days before Saxton's death. The memoranda of settlement was offered in evidence.

Dr. A. C. Brant testified as a scientific witness on the morphine habit and also on an examination of Mrs. Eckroate. He said she shows no symptoms of the habitual use of opium.

Dr. A. B. Walker followed Dr. Brant and the remainder of the morning was devoted to medical testimony on the morphine habit.

Dr. Walker testified as to Mrs. Eckroate and that examinations show no symptoms of the habit in her case.

A TRAGEDY ON THE OCEAN.

An Open Boat Containing the Remains of Nine Men Who Perished Some Time
Ago Drifts Ashore at Corinto.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The steamer City of Para, from Central American ports, brings details of an ocean tragedy. While the vessel was at Corinto, an open boat containing the remains of nine men who perished months ago drifted ashore there. The bodies were horribly emaciated, and the manner in which their limbs were contorted showed that they must have died in terrible agony. Not a drop of water and not a particle of food was in the boat.

In December last, Louis W. Maslen, of the El Triunfo Pier Co., and three of the port officials and five boatmen went out to the mail company's steamer lying at El Triunfo. They boarded the mail boat and stayed until the signs of an approaching storm warned them to return. The gale came up quickly and overtook the boat soon after it got away from the steamer. It was never seen again until it floated into Corinto harbor. Louis W. Maslen was the son of E. W. Maslen, deputy naval officer of this port. The names of the other victims are not given.

THEIR SKULLS CRUSHED.

Two Women Murdered and Their Bodies
Mutilated at the Carbon Mines, Near Murphysboro, Tenn.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., April 24.—The bodies of two women, who were found murdered while they slept, were found in the house of Francis M. Davis, a miner, residing one mile from Carbon Mine No. 6, at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. The bodies were mutilated and blood stained. It was the opinion of the doctor who was called in to the gruesome scene that the women had been dead 24 hours. The victims are Mrs. Mary E. Davis and Miss Millstead, who resided with the family. The discovery was made by two men who happened to be working near the place and who were struck by the unnatural quiet which seemed to haunt it.

AN EXCURSION TRAIN STONED

Visitors Loaded With Ghostly Reminders of the Burning of Sam Hose, Attacked, Presumably By Negroes.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 24.—One special and two regular trains carried nearly 4,000 people to Newnan to witness the burning of Sam Hose or to visit the scene of the horrible affair. The excursionists returning Sunday night were loaded down with ghastly reminders of the affair in the shape of bones, pieces of flesh and parts of the wood which was placed at the Negro's feet.

One of the trains, as it passed through Fort McPherson, four miles out of Atlanta, was stoned—presumably by Negroes. A number of windows were broken and two passengers were painfully injured.

A Tragedy in Texas.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 24.—In a shooting affair Sunday near Treval in Trinity county Edward Harding and Jas. C. Trebathan were killed and L. C. Harding fatally wounded. The original difficulty was between L. C. Harding and Trebathan. Edward Harding interfered and was killed by Trebathan, who fatally wounded the remaining Harding before being killed himself. The cause of the trouble is not known.

The mine operators of Springfield, Ill., sub-district, have acceded under protest to the miners' demands for scale for outside laborers, paying under protest, pending the decision of the state board of arbitration. A thousand men are affected.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

Swamp-Root, The Great Kidney Restorative and Healer.

ITS MARVELOUS SUCCESS IN ALL KIDNEY,
BLADDER AND URIC ACID TROUBLES,

To Prove for Yourself the Wonderful Merits of This Great Discovery, You may Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free By Mail.

What your kidneys need is a gentle, healing, tonic influence, that will soothe their irritability and gently regulate them. The only thing that will do this is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the ideal Kidney Restorative.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these useful organs.

What more natural?
The Kidneys filter and purify the blood.

When they don't your whole body must suffer.

If you are sick, doctor your kidneys, because as soon as they are well they will help all the other organs to health.

The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles. Make a note of the name, SWAMP-ROOT, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may have a sample bottle of this famous kidney remedy sent free by mail, postpaid, by which you may test its virtues for such disorders as kidney, bladder and uric acid diseases, and urinary troubles, obliged to pass water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brickdust or sediment in the urine, constant headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, indigestion, nervousness, skin trouble, anaemia, Bright's disease, neuralgia, rheumatism, bloating, irritability, worn-out feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion.

If your water when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

The great discovery, Swamp-Root, has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief, and has proved so successful in every case, that a special arrangement has been made by which all the readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent absolutely free by mail. Also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and containing some of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women who owe their good health, in fact, their very lives, to the wonderful curative properties of Swamp-Root. Be sure and mention this paper when sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.

"I have used Pe-ru-na for a number of years with the very best results for catarrhal diseases. I shall never be without it. I never fail to recommend it when an opportunity presents itself."
—J. H. Caldwell, Robeline, La.
Gilbert Hofer, Grays, Ky., says in a letter dated March 7th, 1894: "I have used four bottles of Pe-ru-na and I am well of my catarrh, and it cured my Bright's disease. I had been troubled for two years. I weigh twenty pounds more than I did before I was taken sick. I shall never be without Pe-ru-na."

CHILDREN OF OLD MEN.

Seventy Years No Bar to the Acquisition of Interesting Families.

Cases of children being born to men verging on the three score years and ten, which are declared by the Psalmist to constitute the span of human life, are by no means so rare as might be imagined, says the New York World.
The present earl of Leicester, one of the only peers of the realm who witnessed Queen Victoria's coronation, was 71 years of age at the time of the birth of his youngest daughter, whose eldest sister, aged 49, is already a grandmother. The famous French field marshal Pelissier, duke of Malakoff, was 68 when he married, and his only daughter, recently divorced from the Polish Count Zambiska, was born a year later. His fellow field marshals, Canrobert and Bazaine, likewise married when they were in the neighborhood of 70, and each left several children.

The father of Queen Isabella of Spain, old King Ferdinand, was 68 at the time of her birth, and 69 when her sister, the late Duchess de Montpensier, made her appearance in the world. Ancient history furnishes many more such instances, among the most notable being, perhaps, those of Cato, King David, and last, but not least, Father Abraham.

WANTED PAUL TO TELL.

A Tippy Wayfarer Who Is Familiar with the Scriptures Asks a Question.

A man of the North side saw a masculine member of the human race tumble down on the sidewalk the other evening, hopelessly intoxicated. Disgusted at the sight, he was about to pass on unheeding of his neighbor's misfortune when the story of the good Samaritan flashed across his mind and he resolved for once to be charitably helpful. He accosted the fallen one and assisted him to his unsteady feet, and after much persistent interviewing succeeded in ascertaining the number of his home. Thither he piloted his swaying companion and was rewarded on the doorstep by a volley of thanks and a most importunate invitation to enter and take a drink.
"No," responded the modern Samaritan, emphatically, "I won't go in and take a drink, and you'd better follow my example and get to bed as quickly as you can."
"All right, I guess I will," muttered the tipsy host, drowsily. "But tell me your name, anyway. I want to know the name of the man who brought me to my door."
As his eloquence and voice were waxing in strength, the Samaritan thought it wisdom to comply in some way with his associate's desires, and at the same time had no intention to reveal his own identity.
"Paul is my name," he answered, at last, in compromise, turning to go down the steps.
"Come here, Paul," eagerly called the other man at once. "Come back and answer the question I've had it in my mind to ask you for years. Paul," he continued, impressively, "did you ever get an answer to your letters to the Ephesians?"—Chicago Chronicle.

Cheap Excursions, 1899.

Annual Meeting General Assembly, Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Denver, Col., May 18 to 26.
Annual Meeting General Assembly Presbyterian Church at Minneapolis, Minn., May 18 to June 1.
National Baptist Anniversaries at San Francisco, Cal., May 26 to 30.
National Educational Association at Los Angeles, Cal., July 11 to 14.
For all these meetings cheap excursion rates have been made and delegates and others interested should bear in mind that the best route to each convention city is via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y and its connections. Choice of routes is offered those going to the meetings on the Pacific Coast of going via Omaha or Kansas City and returning by St. Paul and Minneapolis. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y has the short line between Chicago and Omaha, and the best line between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, the route of the Pioneer Limited, the only perfect train in the world.
All excursion ticket agents sell tickets via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y. For time tables and information as to rates and routes address Geo. H. Heafford, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

The Dark Secret.
"It's not dark enough yet," she whispered, as she peered eagerly up and down the street.
"There's no one in sight," he replied, after a careful survey.
"But some one may come round that corner at any minute and recognize us, and then I should want to die."
"Well, then, we'll wait a bit."
What dreadful deed did those two contemplate doing?
He was about to give her her first lesson in riding a bicycle.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Advantages of Direct Buying.
Certain manufacturing institutions have in recent years inaugurated a new system of disposing of their products which is unqualifiedly to the advantage of the consumer. Among the pioneers in this new line of doing business was the Elkhart Carriage and Harness Manufacturing company of Elkhart, Ind. These people began this plan 26 years ago and have adhered to it strictly ever since. The result has been so entirely successful that they are to-day the largest manufacturers of carriages and harness in the world selling to the consumer exclusively.
The advantages to the consumer are almost beyond estimate. He gets better goods, better and larger selections, and he buys at a much lower price. There is no risk as this firm ship vehicles or harness everywhere for examination, and guarantee every article they manufacture and sell. The Elkhart Carriage and Harness Manufacturing company publish a large illustrated catalogue, which they will cheerfully mail to all who request it.

Among His Impediments.
"You've got a lot of baggage," remarked the Washington friend who had accompanied him to the railway station.
"Yes," responded the retiring congressman, "but I carry something on my mind that weighs me down more than all this stuff put together."
"What is it?" inquired the other.
"It's my 'ex'!" said the departing statesman, with a dry sob.—Chicago Tribune.

Two Valued Opinions.
A prominent western railway man, in speaking of the passenger service of the New York Central, says: "It begins right, ends right, and is right in the middle."
An officer of one of the transpacific steamship lines says: "There is no train service in the world comparable with that of the New York Central's Lake Shore Limited."
The best is the cheapest, and the best is always best. The New York Central stands at the head of the passenger lines of this country and has fairly earned the title of "America's Greatest Railroad."
Buffalo Commercial, February 14, 1899.

Fifty Years of Cures.

To those doctors, who went up and down the country in every kind of wind and weather, faithful, patient, and true, Ayer's Sarsaparilla owes its first success. Today any doctor of repute who prescribes any Sarsaparilla prescribes Ayer's. We have thousands of testimonials from doctors all over this land that it is the one safe Sarsaparilla, and the doctors know what it is, because we have been giving the formula of it to them for over half a century.

This is why

is "the leader of them all," not because of much advertising nor because of what we put around the bottle, but because of what is in the bottle.

It is the one safe spring medicine for you.

The Fourth Dementia.
"Golf?" the physician said, with a sigh.
"Golf, or, more correctly, golfitis, must be designated the fourth dementia. Golfitis is a permanent addition to English manias, and is attracting the attention of thinking alienists. This mania differs from others in that it is not acute in its chronic stages and is curable. The symptoms are a loathing for legitimate business, an abnormal disposition to copious profanity and nervous irritation, a passion for giddy and eccentric garments, a profound contempt for truth, a hatred of domestic restraint, accompanied by dished fare and a depraved love of out-of-doors."—Golfing.

The Natural Cure for Indigestion.

Do you have pain in the stomach after eating? Do you have a yellow tongue? Wind on the stomach? Constipation? These things arise from Indigestion and Dyspepsia.
Digestion depends on digestive fluids or "ferments" secreted by certain glands. When the secretion becomes insufficient, Indigestion results. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People cause these glands to resume their normal action and good digestion follows.

Artificial ferments (of which most so-called Dyspepsia cures are composed) may give temporary relief, but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People afford a permanent cure.

Poor digestion often causes irregularity of the heart's action. This irregularity may be mistaken for real, organic heart disease. A case in point: Mrs. Ellen Colson, Newport, Ind., had suffered for four years with stomach trouble. The gases generated by the indigestion pressed on the heart, and caused an irregularity of its action. She had much pain in her stomach and heart, and was subject to frequent and severe choking spells, which were most severe at night. Doctors were tried in vain; the patient became worse, dependent, and feared impending death. She noticed that in intervals in which her stomach did not annoy her, her heart's action became normal. Reasoning correctly that her digestion was alone at fault she procured the proper medicine to treat that trouble and with immediate good results. Her appetite came back, the choking spells became less frequent and finally ceased. Her weight, which had been greatly reduced, was restored and she now weighs more than for years.
That others may know the means of cure we give the name of the medicine used—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves.
